NEW CANBERRA CITY SNAP PRINTING OPENING 7 JULY 2008

Customers of Snap Printing's new Canberra City franchise will get more than just printing and digital copying services. With the new owner a former lawyer, customers can be assured their jobs will be completed with extra attention to detail.

Owner Gabry Borzatti said her background would also come in handy for clients needing legal documents prepared.

"My legal background means I understand the specific requirements for copying, collating and binding legal briefs, court briefs and other legal documents," Gabry said.

"In fact we specialise in all executive and business documentation. We offer a fast and professional service which is essential in business today."

The latest addition to the Snap Printing group, located on the corner of University Avenue and London Circuit, Canberra City, provides all aspects of print for the Canberra City area.

Services include commercial, digital, wide format and promotional printing. Snap Printing Canberra City's friendly and professional staff can also supply print and design recommendations with a fast turnaround.

Gabry said she expected clients to embrace Snap's frequent flyer offer.

As the exclusive national Print Partner of the Qantas Frequent Flyer program, Snap rewards it's loyal customers with one Frequent Flyer point* for every dollar spent at any Snap Printing centre across Australia.

Snap Printing is the leading business print and design group in Australia with over 148 centres located nationally as well as internationally including China, New Zealand and Ireland. Canberra is now serviced by two Snap Printing outlets, the other located in Fyshwick.

Snap also provides variable data print services, print and production of training manuals, display stands, book binding and online business print management.

Opening hours are 8:30 am – 5pm Monday to Friday.
